

Anti-Red Plot Is Crushed

Czech Government Says Group Was Preparing to Begin Armed Revolution

Secret Trial

Six Are Condemned to Death; 10 Get Life Imprisonment

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Prague, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Czechoslovak government announced today it had crushed an anti-Communist underground movement just as the group was preparing to begin an armed revolution.

The official Press Bureau linked the underground members with "a certain western imperialistic power" but did not identify the western power.

Details of the purported plot were announced after a secret trial at which six persons were condemned to death, 10 given life imprisonment and an unspecified number lesser prison terms. Ten of those tried were acquitted.

The announcement termed members of the group spies and terrorists and said they were tried on charges of high treason and spying on behalf of the western power "with which they had been in contact."

The government claimed its police had played a cat-and-mouse game with the alleged conspirators and waited until they were all set to begin the revolution before moving in to crush them.

One of those sentenced to death was Josef Charvat, identified by friends as chief of security police here during the first republic.

The government said the political leader of the planned putsch was Dr. Jaroslav Borkovec, identified as the brother of a former chief of the Prague police's criminal investigation section. His brother was ousted when Communists took over the government in February, 1948.

Informed sources said those sentenced included army and police personnel, as well as civilians.

The trial of the group was reported to have lasted several weeks in the Prague State Court. The government said many of the accused pleaded guilty.

A "large group" of conspirators was said to have been involved in the abortive putsch.

Date Not Disclosed
Date of the attempted coup was not disclosed, but it was reported the group chose a bank holiday when the working people were at home and unable to mount counter-action.

The announcement was the second in four days about the crushing of a group denounced as anti-government terrorists.

On Saturday, the government said nine men accused of trying to overthrow the Communist-led government had been convicted of high treason by a state court at Melnik, north of Prague. "This group also had been charged with seeking to contact foreign power."

The official story about the Prague group said they had "set the day and hour for their armed revolt" but police who had been waiting for them caught them red-handed.

This account also said the group had contact with "treacherous" Czechoslovak exiles through "the help of an employee of the Prague Embassy of a western power."

The plotters also were said to have had a copy of their plan for an uprising in this western embassy.

A spokesman at the American Embassy said "we don't know anything about this. It is just as much news to us as to everybody else."

The government's account of the plot for revolution said the conspirators had been assigned definite tasks, had armed themselves and were ready to act.

They were then to begin a series of attacks against key points in the city, seize public offices and "wipe out certain persons" on the account said.

Then the attacks were to be deployed into the country. "There the population was to be confused with faked proclamations which would attempt to give the impression of legality to this revolt and intimidate the people with the prospect of threats of bloodshed."

The government said members of the group were caught as they were going to their appointed stations for the start of the revolt.

Schools Will Open As Scheduled on Tuesday, Sept. 6

Change Stated For Polling Place

No New Case of Polio Reported Here, Number Stands at 33

Arthur J. Laidlaw, superintendent of local schools, said Monday that schools are expected to open as scheduled on September 6.

Insofar as is known at this time, he said, the schools will open on the Tuesday after Labor Day because there has been no request or order to do otherwise.

Statewide information on polio, issued recently from Albany, indicated that most schools would open on schedule, but it was expected that opening dates would be advanced through area action in scattered instances.

Health authorities here, meanwhile, reported no new cases of polio and the total stands at 33 including three cases brought from other counties for hospitalization.

Paul T. Sellers, school superintendent at Catskill, it was learned today, announced that reopening of schools in that village will be advanced from September 7 to September 12, "because of the prevalence of polio," in Greene county.

Latest reports said Greene county has 24 cases, and Mrs. Margaret Ball, 29, of Brooklyn, who had been vacationing at East Durham, died Sunday of the disease at Catskill Memorial Hospital. She had been an army nurse during World War 2, and was the mother of two sets of twins.

The latest victim in Ulster county, a 34-year-old man, was admitted to the Benedictine Hospital Saturday, and was described as in "fair condition" today.

Three cases at Kingston Hospital were also said to be "fair."

Weigh Offer By Fact-Finding Board to Mediate Dispute

Woman Struck By Car; Another Hurt in Crash

A woman was struck by a car at Broadway and Orchard street Monday and another was injured in a three-car collision on Broadway near the railroad crossing, according to the police.

Catherine Schisky, 47 Hudson street, was struck by a car operated by Frank Russo, 70 Smith avenue, and owned by Michael Abdullah, Dallas, Texas. She was treated by a doctor for an injured thigh and shock and was scheduled to be X-rayed at the Benedictine Hospital, police said.

Officer Gurnsey Burger, Jr., investigated.

Three cars headed north on Broadway collided near the crossing, the report at 1:30 p. m. said.

A car owned and operated by Francis X. Turk, 309 Second avenue, and a sedan operated by George Gouss, 79 German street, had stopped at the crossing, the report said, and a station wagon operated by Jacob Vogel, 44 Broadway, struck the Gouss car, forcing it into the other ahead.

Claire Vogel, 30, who was riding in the station wagon, suffered contusions of the forehead and left knee, and was treated by a doctor.

U.S. Loan To Tito Is Cinch

Yugoslav Dictator in Need of Quick Help to Weather Economic Blockade

Needs 25 Million

First Time Tito Asked U. S. Aid Since He Defied Moscow

By JOHN SCALI
Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is considered virtually a cinch to get an American government loan—provided he stays alive and independent from Moscow.

Top government officials said Secretary of State Acheson's strong support for Yugoslavia's application clearly foreshadows a favorable verdict.

Acheson and Ambassador Cendish Cannon in Belgrade are reported vigorously urging the Export-Import Bank not only to approve Tito's bid but to do it quickly.

The Yugoslav dictator is said to be in need of quick economic help from the United States and other western countries to help him weather the economic blockade now threatening to strangle his country.

The Yugoslav government was disclosed last night to have applied formally to the bank for a credit of around $25,000,000 needed to buy American machinery for its copper, lead and zinc mines.

Tito is reported to have turned to the bank, an American government agency, because he feels he cannot wait possibly six months for a credit from the international bank.

This is the first time the Yugoslav government has turned to the United States government for a direct loan since Tito defied Moscow's orders some 15 months ago and split from the Russian bloc in western Europe.

Government officials familiar with the Yugoslav application said that thus far there has been no sign of opposition from Secretary of Defense Johnson.

Johnson first opposed and then finally approved the first big step by the United States to bolster Yugoslavia several weeks ago—a decision to permit the Yugoslavs to buy a steel mill from an American company.

Export-Import Bank officials declined to predict how they will treat the Yugoslav loan request, saying they are giving the matter "serious consideration" and that a decision should be forthcoming shortly.

Yugoslavia would be able to pay for the credit, it was said, by increasing shipments of strategic copper, lead, zinc and chrome ore to the United States. Officials emphasized that Acheson is under no illusions about Tito or his Communist dictatorship in Yugoslavia.

But both Acheson and President Truman are reported to believe that it is vital to keep Tito alive and his country in fairly good economic shape. In this way Tito can serve as a symbol and reminder to other eastern European governments that it is possible to break with Moscow and still exist as an independent nation.

Plan Counter-Action

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Left-wing labor leaders, facing possible ouster from the C.I.O., meet tonight to plan counter-action.

C.I.O. President Philip Murray has ordered the unions to get out with C.I.O. policy or get out. He is expected to face a showdown at the Cleveland convention October 31. Some labor sources here looked on tonight's conference at Manhattan Center as a possible seed of a secession movement.

Their argument is that the left-wing unions may not wait for Murray to lose them out of the C.I.O. but may take the initiative away from him by seceding.

Some of these executives asserted that they would resist any recommendation by the panel in favor of even a part of the steelworkers' demands.

Settlement of the dispute might well have an effect on deadlocks in other mass production industries. Spokesmen for the steel board would set a pattern for a fourth round of wage increases in the nation if it met the package demand in whole or in part.

The three panel members, headed by Prof. Carroll R. Daugherty of Northwestern University, plan to go ahead with the writing of their report if mediation is rejected.

The new deadline for submission of this report to the White House, is Sept. 30.

Even if it is made public at once, only three days will remain for bargaining before the Sept. 14 strike deadline unless the President secures an extension of the truce.

Falls to Death

Boston, Aug. 30 (AP)—George Kuznetsov, 50, of 8122 24th avenue, Jackson Heights, N. Y., died last night of injuries suffered in a fall. Kuznetsov, 50, was aboard the U. S. Line's freighter American Press, left from a gangplank while hoarding the vessel at an East Boston dock.

Man Spends Night In Woods; Returns Today Unharmed

Ernest Grega, 61, Took Wrong Trail; Troopers Aided in Search for New Yorker

Ernest Grega, 61, of 135 West 31st street, New York, a guest at the Budapest Hotel, Big Indian, decided to take a walk in the woods Monday afternoon about 4 o'clock. He left the hotel and took a trail back of the hotel. Heading up the mountain he came to a fork in the trail and decided to take the right hand trail. Suddenly the trail ceased and darkness approached. Grega was unable to retrace his steps and settled down for the night in the woods.

At 8:30 o'clock when he had failed to return an alarm was sounded and Trooper Ray Dunn of Phenicia formed a search party of local people augmented by Troopers from Lake Katrine station. The search was continued during the night with an area from Big Indian over the mountain nearly to Fox Hollow Trail being covered. At 4 a. m. the search was called off.

At daybreak Trooper Dunn and a group of men from the hotel again took up the search.

Shortly after they entered the woods this morning a shot was heard at the hotel and the search party returned to find that Mr. Grega had found his way out of the woods and was back at the hotel. He was in good physical condition except for exhaustion suffered by his long walk.

Grega told Trooper Dunn he had followed the trail to a branch and then took the right hand trail which suddenly stopped. Realizing he could not retrace his steps to the original trail he decided to remain in the woods overnight. This morning when he was found he was exhausted.

Probe Started on Robeson Riot Under Dewey's Orders

Junior League Institute Here On Recreation

A recreation institute sponsored by the Junior League will be held at the Recreation Center, 97 Broadway, September 20, 27 and October 4. Realizing the need for trained leadership and trained volunteers in recreational work, the league has planned a program of discussions and demonstrations concerning leadership techniques and the place of recreation in the community.

Mary Breen Lawson of the National Recreation Association will lead the institute. Arrangements are being made by a committee of League members under the chairmanship of Mrs. Mortimer B. Downer.

The institute will be in session from 2 to 4 and 8 to 10 p. m. on each of the three consecutive Tuesdays. Practical subjects such as simple dramatics, music, square dances and craft work will be included with discussions.

At the first meeting the theory and practice of leadership for small groups and difference of interest in small groups will be featured. The second meeting will schedule an exhibition, description and demonstration of crafts, group singing and additional discussions. The final meeting will conclude the sessions with demonstration of dramatics, questions and answers, musical mixers and simple square dances.

The idea of the local institute originated last season when through the League's work at the center, many of the volunteers found their knowledge of leading recreational groups inadequate to do a completely successful job.

The League has been interested in the Recreation Center work for several years and last winter conducted a variety of classes for the boys and girls.

Assisting Mrs. Downer with the arrangements for the institute are Mrs. James E. Quinn, co-chairman, Mrs. James E. Sneed, Mrs. Louis P. Hurley, co-chairman of publicity; Mrs. George Sileworth, Mrs. J. Dean Dykstra, education chairman; Mrs. Henry Parker, Mrs. Randolph H. Winston, placement; Mrs. Herbert L. Shultz, Miss Helen Larkin, general project chairman; and Mrs. William Hilton, league president.

Warrants Are Issued

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Warrants were issued today for the arrest of Morris "Mickey Mouse" Barra and his brother Joseph as kingpins in a nationwide counterfeit stamp ring. Assistant U. S. Attorney Roy M. Cohn said the Barra brothers were close associates of Michael Malone, already under indictment by a federal grand jury on counterfeit charges. Cohn said the brothers "are believed to be the top bosses of the counterfeit stamp racket in the nation."

He Denies Anything Improper

Thought Maragon and Helis Money Went to Missouri Democrats He Testifies

Truman Not Told

Much of Questioning Is About Dealings With Maragon

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan acknowledged today that he collected campaign money in 1946 from some of the business men he helped in dealings with the government.

He said he got $2,000 or $3,000 from race track owner William Helis, who sought Vaughan's aid in 1948 in getting a permit for source building materials for the "Panform (Calif.) race track."

And, Vaughan said, he "probably" got $2,000 from John Maragon, Washington man-about-town and one time employee of a Chicago perfume company.

Vaughan, the President's military aide, was in the witness chair of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Flatly and repeatedly, he denied that there was anything improper in anything he did for any business man—or that he ever received any fee, gift or favor in return for his aid.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said at one point he felt that "Vaughan did not personally profit financially" from his assistance to persons who have figured in the inquiry.

But he demanded that Vaughan produce for the committee the names of all persons from whom he received money for campaign purposes, the exact amounts and the disposition of the money.

Vaughan had testified that he thought the Maragon and Helis contributions had gone to the Missouri Democratic campaign.

He was still being questioned about this when Chairman Hoyer (D-N.C.) ordered a recess until 9 a. m. (E.S.T.) Wednesday. Vaughan will return to the witness chair then.

The White House army aide told Senate investigators that the things he did were done without the knowledge of President Truman.

Didn't Tell Truman

He did not mention them to the President, he said, because "I didn't think it was necessary."

Vaughan came in for rugged questioning from members of the Senate subcommittee looking into the question of whether there has been improper influence in letting of government contracts.

Much of it revolved about his relations with John Maragon, the mysterious man-about-town who stood on his constitutional rights and refused to tell the committee last week about his financial affairs. An account (Continued on Page 13, Col. 1)

Case Posts $1,500 Bail With Clerk

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Reginald W. Case, charged with defrauding the state of $6,493 by collecting disability pension payments to which he is not entitled, posted $1,500 cash bail with the Supreme Court clerk yesterday.

Case, 47, President of the Kingston Central Businessmen's Association and a former state trooper, was one of nine men arraigned last week on indictments which resulted from a state investigation of disability pension fraud.

All pleaded innocent. Case was released in custody of his attorney and was given until Monday to provide bail. The others were released in bail after their arraignment.

Case manager of the Walter Benda Theatre in Kingston, Hudson and Saratoga Springs, lives at Woodstock.

Comments

Gilmore D. Clarke, leading figure in unsuccessful fight to block President Truman's plan for a "back porch" for the White House, says he does not expect to be reappointed as chairman of the Fine Arts Commission.

Clarke, dean of the Cornell School of Architecture, made statement in response for comment on story in the Washington Star which said that Truman would not name Clarke to the commission.

Move With Seasons

Sukhne, Hashemite Jordan (U)—Sixteen thousand Palestine Arab refugees have returned to the Sukhne camp from which they fled last winter. Sub-zero temperatures and heavy snow and rain-falls had chased them from this barren wind-swept plateau, 30 miles north of Amman. They took their winter quarters in the Jordan river valley, around the Biblical towns of Jericho and Shuneh.

Contract Awarded

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (U)—The State Public Works Department today awarded $12,350 contract for painting four steel bridges over the Delaware river in Delaware and Sullivan counties. The contract went to the Buffalo Sheet Metal and Painting Company of Buffalo. The bridges in Sullivan county are a single-span suspension bridge at Kellans, and a four-span truss-bridge at Callicoon.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

I have so much good material from Raphael Cohen that I am going to re-copy as much as I can to keep as reference. For instance, from the Kingston Daily Express of May 30, 1908 I see item: "Kingston's new Post Office building, (now central post office) will be ready for occupancy by July 1st. The bill for the erection of this building was first introduced in Congress by Hon. John H. Ketcham. Hon. George J. Smith obtained the first appropriation of $50,000 and Hon. Frank Leifer the second amounting to $30,000. It is an imposing building and the material used in its construction is Indiana gray sandstone. It is situated at the junction of Broadway and Prince streets." But who can remember when the excitement in Kingston started about closing the uptown post office and Herbert Carl offered space in his mammoth store on North Front street in 1909 for $1.00 per year.

Another item: "The Kingston Academy was founded in 1773. Ulster Academy in 1880. In 1902 by act of the Legislature all the schools of Kingston were consolidated under one system. In 1930 Dubois G. Atkins was president and Sylvester R. Shear, Superintendent of schools." I can remember Atkins' name in our school books.

"The City of Kingston was incorporated on May 1874, and was formed of the two incorporated villages of Kingston and Rondout and the unincorporated village of Wilbur. There were then nine wards. The first Mayor was James G. Lindsley. In 1908 Walter P. Crane was mayor, grandson of Walter P. Crane who was a prominent official of the Delaware and Hudson Canal during the good old days in Rondout."

The State Armory, now Municipal Auditorium, occupied by Company M in 1908 was built in 1890 at a cost of over $25,000. The then City Almshouse was built in 1874 at a cost of $31,500, at Flatbush and Clifton avenues. The City Hall at that time was said to cost $75,000 when built in 1875 and before 1908 some $20,000 had been paid for repairs. Dr. David Kennedy had a cupola built on top for a grand view of the Catskills. At that time Dr. Kennedy had a fine staircase built to reach the cupola which cost some $1,000 out of his own pocket. In the days before mayors received salaries.

The Kingston Daily Express, of Saturday, May 30th, 1908, has a full page coverage of the First Reformed Dutch Church of Kingston, description of the monuments and tombstones in the old burial ground and objects of interest in church interior. Autograph letter of George Washington. Quotations from a historical address made by Pastor, the Rev. Dr. J. G. Van Slyke. There is also a photograph of the handsome medal designed by Tiffany & Co. for the celebration of the founding of Kingston, 250 years ago, on one side of which is a picture of Peter Stuyvesant 1602-1682. Some of the red sandstone monuments have had copper tops placed upon them to preserve them from the elements. The oldest stone is a cedar post with a stone against it. Interment in this grave was made year 1710. It said, this was the first grave marked although settlers of Kingston were buried before then.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Aug. 30—Mrs. Edward Hotelling is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Terpening at their home in Nyack.

Mrs. Charles W. Card is a patient at the Benedictine Hospital. Mrs. Card suffered a broken hip in a fall in her yard Saturday.

Edward M. Townsend is spending two weeks with his relatives in Philadelphia, Pa., and Jersey City, N. J.

The Port Ewen Five Drum and Bugle Corps will meet at the Central Postoffice, Kingston, tonight at 7 o'clock. The corps will stage a demonstration in connection with the big baseball game at municipal stadium between the Kingston Colonials and the Bridgeport Bees. Several other attractions also are listed during the evening.

A movie, "Song of Old Wyoming," in technicolor will be shown at the Town of Esopus Auditorium Wednesday at 8 p. m. The movie is being sponsored by the altar committee of the Methodist Church.

James Conway of Poughkeepsie is visiting his friend, Leonard Stine at the Methodist parsonage. Anna Milay spent the week-end in New Brunswick, N. J., where he visited his wife who is a patient at St. Peter's Hospital, New Brunswick. Mrs. Milay is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wonderly and daughters, Peggy Lee and Susan, and Miss Margaret Card of Syracuse are spending several days at the home of their mother, Mrs. Charles W. Card. Miss Dorothy Ellsworth, who has been spending a week at her home on Green street, returned to New York Saturday.

Busy Docks

During 1947, 1,500,000 transatlantic passengers were carried to Great Britain by sea and air and the Southampton docks handled 577,000 passengers for an all-time record.

1950 Studebakers On Display Here

New 1950 Studebaker passenger car models are now being displayed in the showrooms of Harold Halwick, 515 Albany avenue and the Port Ewen Garage, Port Ewen.

These are the automobiles which generated so much enthusiasm when they were previewed privately in New York and Chicago recently, the local dealers pointed out today.

The front end of the 1950 Studebaker is especially striking. It embodies an airplane fuselage-type hood, flanked by air-foil front fenders and set off by a chrome "spinner." In addition to providing an ornamental touch, the "spinner" augments four frontal openings which direct air to the engine for maximum cooling. The largest of these air passages consists of two oval-shaped honeycomb grille scoops located below the two smaller air channels which flank the "spinner." Chrome moldings over these small twin channels contribute to the unusual decorative effect. The complete change in frontal appearance and fender treatment will be of special interest to automobile enthusiasts. It makes the cars look as if they are in motion even when they're standing still.

Riding and handling qualities are greatly improved, too. These are the result of a number of engineering refinements but are due principally to a modification of Studebaker's balanced chassis to include a new self-stabilizing coil spring front suspension. This involves a new mounting of the front wheels so that they strike road bumps at a retracting angle instead of head-on. In other words they roll with the punch. They don't take the full force of the blow.

Movie Is Slated At Hutton Park

The film, "The Count of Monte Cristo" starring Robert Donat, Elissa Landi, and Louis Calhern, will be shown under the sponsorship of the Recreation Department in Hutton Park tonight at 8:15 o'clock. The movie is based on Alexander Dumas' famous novel which is acclaimed one of the great classics of literature. Lavish costuming and sets, inspired direction, and superb characterization by Robert Donat are combined to tell the story of a man unjustly imprisoned during the 19th Century.

The feature attraction will be shown after some selected short subjects.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By ED OREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—When James Keller says he's out to change the world, a lot of people listen.

For one thing, he's a big, quietly persuasive Catholic priest with a no-nonsense air about him. He resembles his friend Spencer Tracy.

For another thing, he's a best-selling author who has handed more than 100,000 Catholics, Protestants and Jews into a movement called the Christophers.

Their aim, in their own words: To change the world.

"The U. S.," Father Keller says, "is being undermined by a fanatical group of men and women who hate God and sneer at the Declaration of Independence, with its stress on our God-given rights."

"We want to stop this."

"And we hope to do it by putting men and women of good will into jobs where they can be a force for good and order."

"There has been too much shouting against 'subversives'—for offering something better than the subversives can offer."

"The Christophers are in the news on several fronts:

A novel which won the $15,000 first prize in their literary contest has just been published. Its title is "Call It Treason."

The author, George Howe, is a Protestant.

The Christophers are trying to establish training schools in all parts of the country, to guide "men and women of good will" into key jobs where they can make their influence felt.

And Father Keller himself is reading final proofs on a new book, "Three Minutes a Day," to be published by Doubleday in October. His last book, "You Can Change the World," sold 200,000 copies.

I want to see Father Keller because I had been hearing a good deal about misunderstanding and bad feeling among religious groups, and I wanted to know if there was another side to the story.

"The man in the Roman collar is sure that there is."

"The Christophers," he said, "are people of all faiths. Some have no particular faith."

"We're all sorts of people—housewives, actors, employers, union officials."

"We concentrate on a few fields

—teaching, government work, labor-management, and the spreading of ideas by radio, movies, publishing and so on.

"Why? Because that's where subversives are most active."

"By 'subversives' we don't mean Communists alone. We mean those who are against what normal, decent Americans are for. Such things as Divine truth and human integrity."

"Probably not more than one American in 100 is working against these things. But that adds up to more than 1,000,000 persons. It means that we'll need more than 1,000,000 Christophers."

I asked a couple of questions that a Protestant friend of mine had suggested: Is there opposition to the Christophers because their founder is a priest? Any suspicion that its aims are sectarian?

Father Keller smiled. "Why don't you look over some of our correspondence?" he said.

So I did. There were letters of support from Catholics; from a Methodist ministerial student in Georgetown, Texas; from an Episcopal rector in Beverly Hills, Calif.; from a Jewish television executive in Chicago.

I read the letters and others like them.

"Father," I asked, "are you going to get a million Christophers? Are they really going to change the world?"

"With God's help," said Father Keller promptly, "yes."

He's Driving His Letter of Introduction!

A CADILLAC doesn't tell who you are—but it speaks most eloquently of what you are!

In every country on the face of the earth, it constitutes a wonderful letter of preliminary introduction.

It says, as plainly as if it spoke the words, that you're a man or a woman of discriminating taste; that you're a person of achievement in your own world of affairs; and that you have the utmost consideration for the safety and comfort of those who ride with you.

In business, in finance, and in the professions—the owners of Cadillacs stand apart. The Cadillac crest has become a mark of achievement in every community and in every noteworthy walk of life.

This, of course, is an extra value that comes to the owner of a Cadillac car... a pleasing addition to the wonderful performance, the matchless comfort, and the unbelievable endurance which are inherent in every car that carries the Cadillac name.

If you would like to know what a pleasure it is to "drive your letter of introduction"—come in for a ride that's a revelation. We'd be happy to have you any time.

Celebrating 90th Birthday

MRS. JOSEPHINE DEITZ

Mrs. Josephine Deitz, known as Aunt Phoebe or Grandma Deitz, to the Rosendale and Blinewater communities, celebrated her 90th birthday Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lewis Lasher, Blinewater. Her entire family as well as friends attended the party. Mrs. Deitz is the former Josephine Maxwell and was born in Whiteport, August 28, 1859. She is the widow of George Deitz, and has lived to see five generations in her family. In addition to Mrs. Lasher, Mrs. Deitz has a daughter, Mrs. William Steinhilber of Staten Island with whom she makes her home during the winter months. A son, Alfred Deitz, is deceased. There are nine grandchildren, 12 great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren. Mrs. Deitz still enjoys reading, crocheting and embroidering. (Freeman Photo)

Dr. and Mrs. Ryder Honored at Farewell Party By Entire Community at Flatbush Church Hall

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Stephen W. Ryder were honored at a farewell party by the community of Flatbush Monday night. The party came as a complete surprise to the Ryders. They had been dinner guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Henry P. Highway of 94 Highland avenue, this city, and returned to Flatbush to find more than 125 of their congregation and friends in the community gathered at the church hall.

Dr. Ryder who has been pastor of the Flatbush Reformed Church for 17 years has accepted a call to Callicoon Center. With Mrs. Ryder he will leave Friday for his new charge.

The party was originated with the Consistory and members of the congregation and grew into a community affair. A purse containing $200 was given by the community and presented to Dr. Ryder by Lewis Swart of the church consistory on behalf of the people. Roses also were presented to the Ryders and a corsage to Mrs. Ryder.

The choir gave a program of music and readings. Miss Mildred Davis and Miss Helen Myer gave a humorous reading; Frank Osterhout, Robert Swart, Robert Osterhout and Paul Beshgeterian sang a novelty quartet song; Mrs. Howard Osterhout and John Dimmery sang a duet.

During the evening a guest book was circulated and all present signed their names. The hall was decorated with many bouquets of garden flowers. Following the program and presentation, refreshments were served.

Castle Point's New Canteen Described

Castle Point Hospital's new blue and silver canteen has been described as "the nicest canteen in any V.A. hospital," by Buck Bucknell, director of canteen service in all V.A. hospitals, according to a story in the Sunday Poughkeepsie New Yorker. The canteen was opened July 25 and is modeled on the lines of the Army PX or Navy ship stores.

Featured are many varieties of wares for sale at reasonable prices for the hospitalized veterans. Socks, moccasins, bathrobes, stuffed animals, cameras, nightgowns, scarves, cosmetics, cigarettes and luggage give an idea of the merchandise available. These may be purchased for the men, themselves, or if they wish, they may make selections to send as gifts.

The canteen has blue walls, a white ceiling and gray linoleum on the floor. The north end of the room is devoted to a food and soda fountain and eight tables each with four chairs. One balanced meal is offered each day in addition to the usual soda fountain menu. For sanitary reasons, paper cups and wooden spoons are used at the counter.

However, porcelain plates are used for the hot meal. These plates are not merely washed, the article points out, but are sterilized in a machine exactly the same as the unit in the operating room.

Methodist Church Bazaar Planned

The Wesleyan Service Guild of Trinity Methodist Church is completing plans for the annual Fall Bazaar Saturday, September 10. If the weather is fair the booths will be arranged on the lawn of the parsonage, 35 Wurts street. In case of rain the bazaar will be held in the lecture room of the church. The hours will be from 2 to 5 p. m.

Articles for gifts, food, candy, novelties, jewelry, ice cream, and cards are among the general selections from which patrons will be able to choose. Committees have been appointed for each of these tables.

Bared Bosom to Stay
Beverly Hills, Calif., Aug. 30 (AP) — "The bared bosom is here to stay," says designer Meredith Peterson, whose fall and winter collection of plunging necklines is evidence for her belief. "I deliberately play up the bosom," says Miss Peterson. "And why not?" she asked. "It's woman's greatest appeal. Of course, every woman can't wear a plunging neckline but it's a great thing for those who can get away with it."

COPPER

JAMES H. WINTERS
Copper is an important metal in piano manufacture. Beside being alloyed with many other metals in different parts of the piano it is used in practically pure form in bass string windings. Let us explain — the first twenty six to thirty notes of a piano, depending upon the make, are what is known as the bass section. The lower down the note the fewer vibrations per second. To slow up these vibrations more and more weight is added to the string the lower down you go. A steel center core is used and on this steel wire copper wire is wound. This is how the weight is added, the lower the note the heavier the copper wire used. Sometimes, with age, this winding loosens on its steel center or breaks at some place in the winding then the copper will vibrate against the steel causing an unpleasant buzz. In that case a new bass string is called for. Some of the lower priced bass strings are wound with soft iron wire but we feel that, in the smaller pianos, the copper wound strings are the best.

The pianos we handle, namely Wurlitzer, Winter & Company, Steck and Knabe, use only the finest copper wound bass strings. You must trust your dealer to know his instruments. We do know our business, having been brought up in it and suggest that you come to us with your piano problems.

dress on Goethe's personality, art and thought, divided the major works of the poet into songs and poems. Goethe's first great drama, his first important novel, his educational novel and "Faust." He showed that Goethe in all his major works was concerned with two fundamental types of personality, the person of feeling or spontaneity and the person of theoretical reasoning. Dr. Schultze quoted his own English versions of the major songs which were sung on the second half of the program. The artist was Raoul Nadeau who sang seven of Goethe's songs composed by Schubert, Robert Franz and Hugo Wolf. Frieda Schultze played an impeccable accompaniment.

There was an interesting exhibit of Goetheana furnished through the kindness of Theo. Feldman, New York, and the curator of the Speck collection of Yale University.

Economy Question Seems Over Until 1950 Campaigns

Drive Bogs Down With Long Overdue Action on Billions in Appropriations

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—A Senate economy drive which had built up steam for months appeared bogged down at last today following final Senate action—long overdue—on billions of dollars in appropriations.

In the final voting yesterday on a $14,800,000,000 defense money bill, economy advocates actually showed a good-sized majority. Pushing an amendment which would have required President Truman to cut government expenses five to 10 per cent, they summoned a total of 49 votes against only 28 for the opposition. But that was not enough. It fell three votes short of the two-thirds margin which Vice President Barkley, the Senate's presiding officer, had ruled necessary.

That appeared to put the whole economy question over until 1950 Congressional campaigns, in which it is expected to be a major issue. The proposed rider would have required Mr. Truman to chop from two to four and a half billion dollars from the estimated $45,000,000,000 he asked Congress to authorize for government spending this fiscal year, which started July 1.

Its defeat marked a hard-won victory for Democratic Leader Lucas who must run for re-election next year in Illinois.

It was a major setback for two southern Democrats, Senators McClellan of Arkansas and Byrd of Virginia, and two G.O.P. Republican leaders, Senators Wherry of Nebraska and Taft of Ohio.

With the economy amendment out of the way the Senate quickly defeated an anti-inefficiency rider sponsored by Senator Wiley (R-W.Va.) and a last-minute send-it-back-to-committee economy move by Senator Douglas (D-Ill.). Then it sent the huge defense appropriation bill back to the House for action on Senate changes slashing nearly $1,400,000,000 from the House-approved total. House leaders have served notice they will resist most of the Senate reductions, action which is now on vacation and won't be able to consider the bill until September 21. The biggest Senate cut was an $800,000,000 slice in the air force funds. The House allowed enough cash to expand the air arm to 58 combat groups but the Senate whittled this back to 48 groups as recommended by the President. The Senate also directed Secretary of Defense Johnson to cut $434,000,000 from the totals for the army, navy and air force. Finally the Senate ordered a $275,000,000 reduction in funds for stockpiling strategic materials.

Fires Libel Suit

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Sam Lubanski, executive vice-president of the C.I.O. American Newspaper Guild, has filed a $150,000 libel suit against several officials of the Guild's New York local. The suit, Lubanski said, charges he was accused by local executive board members of "collusion with management of the New York Post Home News" to frustrate collective bargaining. Defendants named by Lubanski are Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the New York local, and the local executive board, and Thomas M. McBride, editor of the local's magazine, Frontpage.

No U. S. Handouts

Lake Success, Aug. 30 (AP)—A sharp warning to undeveloped countries that Uncle Sam is not giving handouts just for fun started at a United Nations conference yesterday. It was the blunt talk on President Truman's program for aiding undeveloped areas yet heard at the U.N. John A. Binkley, a consultant on the United Nations technical assistance program with the United States mission to the U. N., called for sensible planning. He said one foreign businessman, not named, was "stupid" for expecting the United States to buy any products left over from a proposed American-built industrialization scheme.

Forgers Are Sought

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—The government today sought a ring of money-order forgers after a 26-year-old Negro allegedly told police "where" to find him how to alter the money-orders. The man, Willie May Howard, Jr., was held in $15,000 bail yesterday for federal grand jury after his arrest at a check-cashing office in Harlem. Assistant U. S. Attorney Thomas F. Burchell, Jr., said Howard, who was released from state prison July 8 after serving a term for petty larceny, had obtained more than $600 since then by the forgery racket.

Seven Polio Deaths

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Seven more deaths of polio were reported in New York state today. In addition, there were 105 new cases of polio recorded. The toll of deaths from the disease now stands at 155 for the year. In the same period there have been 2,586 non-fatal cases. Five of the seven deaths reported in the last 24 hours were in New York city. One death occurred in Newburgh, Chenango county, and the seventh in the town of Brookhaven, Suffolk county.

Three Plead Innocent

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Three New Jersey men pleaded innocent yesterday to charges linking them with an alleged $50,000,000 a-year rigged policy racket. At their arraignment in General Sessions Court, Judge Jacob Gould Schurman fixed additional $15,000 bail for each of them. The men are William Tipitz, 45, Daniel Zwilman, 42, and Nat Levinson, all of Newark. All three were released in bail.

Channel Swimmer Fails

Folkstone, Eng., Aug. 30 (AP)—Swimmer Marie Hansen, 30-year-old Egyptian Army warrant officer, surrendered to the English Channel yesterday less than four miles from his goal. The channel swimmer was pulled from the squally waves, wind and tide after being in the water 14 hours out of Cap Gris Nez, France. The accompanying boat, which brought Hansen to Folkstone.

Will Hold Hearing

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—The State University announced today it will hold a two-day public hearing next month to determine which communities need facilities for higher education. University officials said the hearing would be held in the State Education Building from Sept. 20 and 21. He said notices of the hearing had been sent to every mayor in the state and the chairmen of all county boards of supervisors.

Y.M.C.A. Is Closed

The Y.M.C.A. gym will be closed for the remainder of the week because of general reconditioning work, including resurfacing. It was announced today. The showers, locker rooms and swimming pool will be open until Thursday. Later the pool will be closed for a week for general repairs.

Longest Railroad

The Trans-Siberian railroad is the longest in the world, stretching from Vladivostok in Siberia to Moscow, and connecting with Leningrad. It covers a total distance of about 5,500 miles.

Local Death Record

Funeral services for Miss Caroline O. Crosby of 209 Fair street were held at the A. Carr and Son Funeral Home, 1 Pearl street, on Monday at 3 p. m. The services were conducted by the Rev. Frank B. Seeley and the Rev. J. Dean Dykstra. Burial was in Whitwick Cemetery.

The funeral of Anthony T. Janasiewicz was held from the home of his parents, 17 Third avenue, Monday morning at 9 o'clock thence to the Immaculate Conception Church where a high Mass of requiem was offered at 9:30 for the repose of his soul by the Rev. Joseph J. Siczek. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir assisted by Miss Theresa Gehring at the organ. Saturday evening members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Joyce Schielek Post, No. 1386, called at the home of the departed member to conduct their ritual. Sunday evening the Rev. Joseph J. Siczek called and led those assembled in the recitation of the Rosary. Sunday evening members of the Kingston Police Department called in a body out of respect to Patrolman Carl Janasiewicz, a brother of the deceased. City officials and members of the Kingston Fire Department also called. Interment was in Mt. Calvary Cemetery where the Rev. Father Siczek gave the final blessing. A volley of shots was then fired over the flag draped casket of the World War 2 veteran by members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars consisting of Commander Sidney Lane, John Raymond Mayone, Freeman Kilquist, Robert Matthews, Frank Stolski and Ralph Seim. Taps were then sounded by Bugler John Raymond Mayone. The bearers were Leo Francis, Raymond Prusak, Joseph Nalepa and Adam Agulowicz.

Two Are Seized

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Police arrested two Houston, Tex., men early today in a midtown dance hall. Detectives said they seized the pair and found five revolvers and a quantity of ammunition on them and in their hotel room. The pair, identified as James (Sandy) Leo, 20, of 1618 West 28th St., and Cecil Jacobs, 24, of 428 Gess St., both of Houston, were charged with violating the Sullivan (concealed weapons) law. Detectives said the men told of stealing suitcases from a car in a Chicago, Ill., parking lot and finding the guns, jewelry and dollars.

Work Out New Plan

Paris, Aug. 30 (AP)—Top officials of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation (O.E.E.C.) have worked out a new plan for division of Marshall Plan funds which would give Britain $960,000,000 in 1949-50. This figure is $113,000,000 more than the British were allotted under the last O.E.E.C. proposal but is $58,000,000 less than the British asked for when estimates of required aid were submitted. Although the U. S. Congress has not yet decided on the exact amount of Marshall Plan aid for the coming year, the experts are figuring on a total appropriation of about $8,670,000,000.

Will Boost Purchases

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—The United States is considering a plan to send more dollars Britain's way by boosting purchases of strategic materials from British markets. Government officials said this country's negotiators are giving a sympathetic hearing to British requests for a speedup in American strategic stockpiling during the next few months.

Proposes Tax End

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—The Finance Committee of the Common Council recommends that Syracuse drop its one per cent sales and use tax. The recommendation, presented yesterday, proposed that the tax be dropped next February 28. The council is expected to act favorably on the report, possibly at its meeting September 12.

Still Critical

Carroll Morris, 17, of 461 Washington avenue, who suffered a broken back when he fell from a tree near his home Saturday, was reported still in critical condition at Kingston Hospital today.

TRAVEL BY STEAMSHIP

This letter is typical of many I receive today. "I'm going to Europe alone on an ocean liner, and as this is my first experience, I'd like to know about many things. But in particular this: Is it proper to speak to others or encourage their speaking to me?"

It would be unthinkable not to speak to those with whom you are brought in daily contact, but let it go at that unless encouraged by their friendliness. On long cruises and the slower ships with fewer passengers, everyone is usually very friendly. On largest de luxe liners, life is very much like that in a great hotel.

"Something Borrowed"

Dear Mrs. Post, My inquiry concerns the bridal saying "Something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue." The old, now and blue things are easy enough but what is customarily borrowed?

Answer: A pin or a ring or a little blue bow, to sew somewhere but not for show!

Happens in Every Group

Dear Mrs. Post, How can we get two women in our group to stop talking about their personal concerns at our gatherings? Before we know it the lives of them are off in a corner talking, or else they disappear to powder their noses and stay overlong. They always have so many "secrets" and it gets rather tiresome for the rest of us.

Answer: If one of you always joined them after a little while that should bring them back to the group. Certainly, it would be worth trying before you take the more drastic step of dropping them from the group because of their lack of interest.

Present To Come

Dear Mrs. Post: How can it be indicated by my future daughter-in-law to people who come to look at gifts that we are buying them a very nice wedding present, but will wait until they move out here? It is senseless to send it East to be shipped back West again. We ourselves cannot even go the distance to the wedding.

Answer: It would be a simple matter for the bride to tell everyone, "John's mother and father are giving us a beautiful present" (and describe it).

How to give a wedding anniversary party the invitations and appropriate gifts are described in Mrs. Post's book, "The Wedding." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station C, New York 19, N. Y.

Fichera-Rizzuto

The marriage of Miss Angelina Rizzuto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rizzuto of Cedar Cliff, to John Fichera, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fichera of Newburgh was performed August 21 in St. Mary's Church, Marlborough. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. F. Henely. The bride was escorted by her father. She wore a French moire gown trimmed with satin and fashioned with an off-the-shoulder effect. Her fingertip veil was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried white roses and an orchid. Miss Rose Bongiovanni of Marlborough, maid of honor, wore a yellow tulle gown with a picture hat and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The couple left for a wedding trip to Maine. The bride chose a luggage brown suit with green accessories. They will live in Cedar Cliff.

Mrs. Fichera attended Marlborough Central High School and is employed by Licht and Kaplan Pocketbook Factory. She is a member of St. Mary's Church in Marlborough.

Mr. Fichera attended Cornwall schools and is an automobile mechanic for Vandervee Motors, Newburgh.

John Vechia, Jr., Marlborough, Married Jennie Drivas, Mineola

Miss Jennie Drivas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Drivas of Mineola, L. I., was married to Joseph Dall Vechia, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dall Vechia of Marlborough August 20. The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Francis Chapel, New York City, by the Rev. Fr. Valentine.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin and marquisette for the wedding. She wore a marquisette hat and carried four gardenias.

The bridegroom's sister, Miss Patricia Dall Vechia, as maid of honor, wore a white marquisette over pink taffeta gown with matching hat. She carried gardenias.

Augustus Drivas of Mineola, brother of the bride, was best man.

The reception was held at The Tavern of the Green, Central Park, where the couple cut a three tiered wedding cake.

The bride is a graduate of Mineola High School and Albany State Teachers College. She is a member of the Marlborough Central High School faculty and is attending Columbia University for her master's degree. Mr. Dall Vechia was graduated from Marlborough Central High School and attended Susquehanna University and is a graduate of Siena College. He is associated with his father in business.

After a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will reside in Marlborough.

Gertrude Smith, Daughter Of Napanoch Residents, Wed

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Winifred Smith of Poughkeepsie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Smith of Napanoch, to James Cooke, son of Lloyd Cooke of America and the late Mrs. Mabel Morry Cooke, was performed August 14 in the Warehousing Reformed Church, Napanoch. The Rev. Harold F. C. Schadevad of Bayonne, N. J., performed the double ring ceremony.

George P. Wolf was organist. Mrs. Joseph Carberry was the soloist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white silk marquisette gown over summer satin made with ruffled yoke, dropped waistline and long sleeves. Her hoop skirt ended in a full train edged with a ruffle.

The fingertip veil of French illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a colonial bouquet of white asters and baby's breath.

Mrs. Anne Delamarino, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a gown of turquoise blue marquisette with matching picture hat and carried white carnations and yellow roses.

The Misses Carol and Anita Smith of Bear Mountain, cousins of the bride as bridesmaids, wore contrasting gowns of pale green and shell pink. They carried white carnations and pink roses.

Nancy Schadevad was flower girl. She wore a pale pink frock and carried miniature bouquet. John G. Smith, brother of the bride, attended the bridegroom. Ushers were John Cooke, Canaan and Victor Cooke, America, brothers of the bridegroom, also Briggs L. Coppage, Napanoch and Albert F. Flannery of America.

Cousin DAZZLE Says

There are two kinds of pride in the world. False pride ends up in the bankruptcy court. True pride pays its bills as gratefully as it buys the goods.

True pride is when a woman teaches her children to make both ends meet without borrowing in between. It takes some thinking but that's the kind of thinking that caused our greatest inventions to be born.

Of course I just can't resist bringing my favorite Dazze Bleach into the conversation. Dazze was invented because of woman's pride in her children's clothes. She wanted them to be really white. Dazze Bleach is ready to use. Just add water. No bluing or wax needed either. And my how your iron flies through a big wash.

Another Dazze customer wanted a product to make starching easier so Dazze gave us the new Dazze Liquid Starch! And it's wonderful. No more cooking. No more lumps. No more uneven starching. Dazze's Liquid Starch is ready to use. Just add water. No bluing or wax needed either. And my how your iron flies through a big wash.

It would be a mighty and world if it weren't for woman's inventive genius plus her talkativeness. My mother says there's plenty to be learned from listening to a preacher, a teacher and a talkative woman.

Colonials Launch Final Phase of 1949 Season Against Bridgeport

Record Crowd Expected Tonight For Giveaway

Port Ewen Drum Corps Will Stage Drill

The Colonials launch the final phase of the topsy-turvy 1949 baseball season tonight with a single engagement against the Bridgeport Bees at municipal stadium at 8 o'clock.

Of greater interest to the trade is the Giveaway Night program in which some lucky individual will drive home a new car and other valuable articles of merchandise will be awarded to fans.

This artificial stimulation is expected to attract the largest crowd of the season.

Ceremonies will start at 8 p. m. The Port Ewen drum corps will stage an exhibition.

The Port Ewen drum corps will parade from the central post office to the stadium with the new car on display.

Five More Dates

Only five more home dates remain after tonight's contest with the campaign scheduled to close out on Labor Day with a double-header against the Waterbury Tigers.

Kingston has a faint chance of slipping into fifth place and escaping the ignominy of finishing in the cellar. At the moment the Poughkeepsie Chiefs hold a three game edge in the battle for the basement.

The remaining home dates: August 30—Bridgeport, August 31—Stamford, September 3—Bristol, September 4—Bristol, September 5—Waterbury.

The campaign is drawing to a close with the future of the Colonials pretty much up in the air. An announcement is expected momentarily.

Albany Nine Halts Lanesville Streak

The Albany Hoboes shattered Lanesville's four-game winning streak, 2 to 0, Sunday on the Lanesville diamond.

Woodward, Albany flinger, permitted only six hits and struck out 15 batters. Bud Smith yielded nine blows and retired 13 on strikes.

Bardon hit a double and homer for Albany, while Burns had a pair of doubles and a single.

The Lanesville losers are scheduled to meet Terany, N. J., next Sunday and Monday at the Lanesville diamond.

Was It in or Out? Queries Bud Zoller

This being a season of rhubarbs and protests in the City Baseball League, the following letter submitted by Manager Bud Zoller of Morgan's Restaurant of the City Baseball League will be of interest to Twilight League fans.

The letter is addressed to Ed Murphy, twilight league secretary, and is dated Aug. 26.

Dear Eddie:

In regard to the game of Friday, Aug. 26, I, Bud Zoller, manager of Morgan's Restaurant, am entering a formal protest because of the following play during said game:

With Jones Dairy leading, 2-0, Vince Stolt was on first base with one out. A. Barnes, the hitter, lined a hit to left field. The ball did not bounce over the fence or go through it, which was proven by the fact that C. Neff, Jones Dairy left fielder, continued to play the ball. If it had gone over or through it, he certainly would not have kept trying to play the ball because the ground rules state it would be only a two-base hit. My base of protest then is that the ball was in play at all times and that both men could advance as far as they possibly could at their own risk.

This play meant a difference because it was possible for the hitter to have made a home run tying the score, if he was not stopped at second base by the umpires.

In regard to this also, Mr. Tierney, the first base umpire, called Barnes to a halt at second; thinking it was an automatic two-base hit. In my opinion, also, that this play should not have been called by the first base umpire, but by the third base umpire, because he was closer to the play.

In closing, I would like to point out two more things. First, I am not protesting an umpire's decision in this case, but an infraction of the rules governing this game. In this case, ground rules state that over the fence on a bounce is a two-bagger, or through an opening is a two-bagger. It doesn't say anything about a ball which may have stuck in it. And, finally, I would like to point out one more thing. After much confusion by Neff, the ball was finally retrieved by him, and returned to the infield by him, proving beyond a doubt that the ball was in play and not in back of the fence where it most certainly would have been if it had either bounced over or gone through it.

With these facts in mind, I am protesting and firmly believe the game should most certainly be replayed. If Neff, on the same play in the first game of the series, was allowed a three-base hit.

Robinson Holds Lead Despite Big Slump

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Jackie Robinson's batting average may not be slipping as fast as you can say Jackie Robinson—but it has dropped fifteen points in the last two weeks.

The speedy negro second baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers still is first in the National League, however, with a clubbing percentage of .349 including Sunday's games.

That leaves him a slump margin of 21 points over second place Enos Slaughter of St. Louis, which just goes to show that Jackie was leading the batters by a country mile before he hurt his leg three weeks ago and began to slide down the scale.

Slaughter boosted his own average three points during the week ending Sunday for a seven day gain of a dozen points on Robinson. Stan Musial of the Cardinals, last year's batting champion, moved past Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner into third place. Musial got 14 hits in seven days, boosting his average five points to .321.

The magazine's figures gave a strong indication that pitching itself was the big reason for the early season trouble of the world champion Cleveland Indians.

Rapid Robert Feller had given up 450 earned runs per game and Gene Bearden 5.22. Bob Lemon, however, was up among the leaders with 2.97. Feller had gone only 80 innings and Bearden 81 at the time the figures were compiled.

Not Parnell of the Boston Red Sox—the only 20 game winner so far in either league—had a 3.08 earned run average.

Tightest of all with earned runs were a couple of guys who hadn't pitched very much up to mid season. Al Benton of the Indians had an average of 1.50 over 60 innings and Dave Koslo of the Giants had held batters to an average of 1.57 earned runs per game over 80 innings.

Preacher Roe Rated Best Pitcher In Baseball on Basis of E.R.A.

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Who is the best pitcher in baseball?

Preacher Roe of the Dodgers—on the basis of his stinkiness with earned runs—says a copyrighted article published today in the September issue of Baseball Digest.

The Digest's figures, prepared well in advance to meet magazine deadlines, covered the first half of the season. Official figures published by the leagues do not appear until December.

In his first 13 games, Roe gave up only 24 earned runs per nine innings, according to the magazine's tabulations. That led regular pitchers in both leagues, although a few relievers could spot a better mark.

Tops in the American League was Vic Raschi of the Yankees with an average of 2.64.

The figures show that the current crop of whip arms is somewhat below that of such modern greats as Carl Hubbell, the left-handed screwballer of the New York Giants, and the balling Robert Moses "Lefty" Grove, the ace of Connie Mack's champion Athletics.

In 1933, for instance, Grove won 31 games, and lost only four for an earned run average of 2.05.

Not Like Hubbell

The pitching phenomena, however, was only 1.66 earned runs per game, even though he lost a round dozen contests while winning 23. When the Hub lost one, it was only because the Giants couldn't hit hard enough to help a baby chick crack an eggshell.

Chezzies Narrowly Miss Payoff Run In Last Inning

Darkness Halts Game Witnessed by 1200

Jones Dairy and Chez Emile scrambled through five innings of wild play to wind up in a 6-6 deadlock in the first game of the City League's Shaughnessy finals yesterday at the Athletic Field.

Darkness halted the contest at the end of the fifth after Chez Emile had pushed across a single tally to deadlock the contest and had come within an eyelash of winning.

The rival pitchers—Bill Windburn and Bud Swarthout—took a sound thrashing as a crowd estimated at 1,200 looked on.

The Duhymen collected 10 hits off Swarthout, while Windburn was nipped for one less. Windburn added five walks and both clubs were charged with three miscues.

Book, Glaser Star

Charley Book paced the Dairy-men with "3 for 3" with Andy Celuch and George Zadany each hitting safely twice. Rod Whitaker accounted for two runs with a double.

Bill Glaser matched Book's performance while Joe Shattan and Swarthout poled two hits each. Swarthout knocked in three runs with a pair of singles. Bob Gill hit a triple for Chezzies.

Jones scored three times in the fourth to move ahead 5-3 only to

In the fifth, the Dairy-men chased across a run on singles by Book, Maines and Neff. Chez Emile came right back in the lengthening shadows to deadlock the game and come within an eyelash of scoring the winning marker.

Play at Plate

Joe Shattan's double to right and Bill Glaser's single quickly produced the tying run. Glaser went to second on the throw to the plate and continued to third when Zadany momentarily bobbled the ball at the plate.

Zadany fired the ball to third attempting to head off Glaser but the ball sailed into left field.

Charles Neff, who was backing up the play, relayed the ball to the plate to nail Glaser at the payoff dish on a close play.

The series resumes at 6 p. m. today with Joneses, sending Tommy Fisher against Lefty Joe Jordan.

Ted Williams Heads For Fifth Title

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—A familiar figure occupied a familiar spot in American League baseball today—Ted Williams, mighty Boston slugger, topped the batters for the fourth straight week.

With a whopping .359 average Williams, if he continues his present pace, should grab the loop batting crown for the third straight year. If the Boston strong man wins in 1949 it will be his fifth hitting title since 1941.

Williams' .359, compiled from official figures through last Sunday's games, led runner-up George Kell of Detroit by 20 points. In a third place tie were Boston's Dom

Pittsburgh—Johnny Flynn, 216, Rochester, N. Y., stopped Bill Peterson, 213, Chicago (4).

Di Maggio and Bob Dillinger, of St. Louis, each with 328.

MAJOR LEAGUE ROUNDUP

By The Associated Press

By JACK HAND

Bob Feller's "comeback" and Cleveland's extra-inning magic are keeping the Indians in the American League race.

Just when New York and Boston seemed set for a private stretch drive, the Indians glowed in by snatching three straight from the Red Sox.

The Tribe's success in thumping Boston in 13 of 19 starts could be the making of a second straight pennant. However, it also could pave the way to the flag for the Yankees.

Cassey Stengel's men, shaken by the loss of Tommy Henrich, took new heart in the double Boston loss yesterday. The idle Yanks, in Kansas City for an exhibition, saw their lead mount to four full games. Cleveland is five and a half back.

Feller, now winner of 13, engineered the first Cleveland victory, 5-2. After the Indians tagged Earl Johnson for two runs in the first inning, Feller drove home a third in the second frame. It was his fourth victory over the Sox who have beaten him only once.

The Tribe's amazing extra-inning skill enabled them to pull the second out of the loss column, 5-4, in 10 innings. Ted Williams' 35th homer with one on broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh but Cleveland tied the score in the ninth and nudged Joe Dobson for the decisive run in the tenth. It was the Indians' 16th overtime win in 17 games, four over Boston.

Benton Clicks
It was Benton's win on relief, the second important victory for the Detroit discard in three days.

Homers by Stan Lopata and Andy Seminick in the eighth inning enabled the Phils to top Chicago, 6-5, in a night game that drew only 2,802 to Shibe Park. Reliever Blix Donnelly was the winner over Bob Muncie.

More than 60 horses have been entered in the card of eight harness races at the Dutchess County Fair on Wednesday and Thursday, Frank Cookingham, race secretary, announced today. Four races will be run each day.

Some of the entries will go to Rhinebeck dugout from the Saratoga and Roosevelt raceways. Cookingham said the entry was the finest since he had served as race secretary. Racing will start at 2 p. m. and each race will consist of two heats.

Mr. Cookingham previously made it known that 16 horses were entered for the $750 stake races, one Wednesday and the other Thursday.

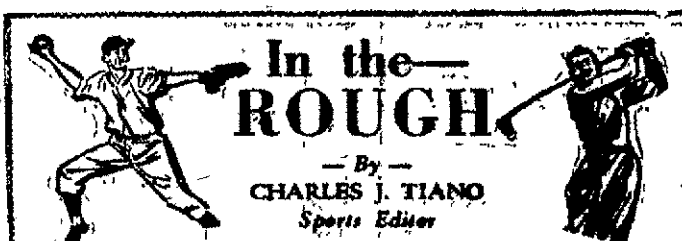

Officials for the harness races are Henry Schaad and Harry Cotting, Rhinebeck; and Aaron Ganser and J. Vincent Hartigan of Chatham. W. W. Foster, Rhinebeck; Harry B. Walker and John F. Rossa, Kingston; Dr. L. Edward Colter, Red Hook; Miss Kay Templer, Red Hook, will act as marshals.

Forest Hills, N. Y.—The National Tennis Championships opened with Eddie Maylan (Trenton, N. J.) scoring the first upset by defeating Herbie Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif., semi-finalist last year, 6-4, 6-3.

Rochester, N. Y.—Three British Walker Cup players—James Raven, Ernest Millward and Gerald Micklem—were ousted as National Amateur Golf Championships got under way despite rain interruption.

London—Promoter Jack Solomons said he will have his own doctor check on injured Bruce Woodcock to see when the British heavyweight champion will be able to fight again.

Coteborg, Sweden—United States athletes won five events in an international track and field meet, sparked by Portune Gorden of the San Francisco Olympic Club who captured discus throw and shot put.

Golf addicts who trailed Leon Randall and Billy Van Aken will swear with unquestioned veracity that they never before witnessed such a tense, dramatic, spine-tingling golf duel as the Wiltwyck Club finalists staged Sunday. Randall achieved the most brilliant victory of his still infantile career, while Van Aken lost only the match. His reputation as a great golfer is still intact.

Both are to be commended for their stirring performance; Randall for his putting under pressure on the 35th and 36th holes; Van Aken for his tremendous comeback to lead 1-up, after trailing from the first hole and at one stage, three down. Wiltwyck Club is rightfully proud of its new champion and extremely respectful of its runnerup.

Randall Terrific on Putts:

Although the gallery was overwhelmingly pro-Randall, it applauded every good shot without any display of partiality. We managed to catch the last four holes and they were packed with stark drama. The 34th hole in which Randall faded left of bounds on his drive. Then came the 35th when it seemed that Van Aken couldn't lose after both had hit the green with irons. Again on the 36th, when Van Aken missed a birdie and then saw Randall rally from the trap and knock down a curling putt. Randall's last two putts in the regulation match were priceless and many a heart skipped a beat as he stroked the agate. It was a superb exhibition by a young golfer in the lightest spot of his career.

Randall's card showed six birdies. He hit No. 5 hole twice and Van Aken achieved the trick three times on that hole. Randall opened the match with a birdie-3, while Billy blasted three balls out of bounds. On the last No. 3 hole, Van Aken knocked three more out of bounds on the No. 3 hole.

Boice — The Unwilling Victim?

In the Twaitskill finals, Alvin Boice packed too many guns for Dick Overbagh, who definitely is not a hot weather golfer. Boice's scorecard reflect real mastery of the second shots. He fubbed four drives in the 16 holes and still put together a 38 and two-under par for the last seven.

Boice enters the 1949 city championship against Leon Randall, probably the biggest underdog since Jim Dandy romped home 100-1 in the Travers at Saratoga many moon (shines) ago. Large quantities of Wiltwyck money are likely to send the odds to around 7 to 5 or 8 to 5 on Randall. Only the rashest sentimentalists will go for even money. This pre-calculated demise of Boice may prove a blessing in disguise to the Twaitskill standard bearer. After all, he has merely to show up for the appointed kill and probably be relaxed enough to play a good game. He has the advantage of starting on his home grounds, too.

Randall to Be Heavily Favored:

As we see the match, Randall has the better all-round equipment. Boice's unsteadiness with the No. 1 iron is a factor that infatuates against him. If he has the driver under control, he can stay with any golfer in the city. If both are at the peak of their game, it might prove an interesting match. At the same time, ninety-five per cent of the golfing public will tell you that Boice doesn't have a ghost of a chance.

The Freeman's first annual hole-in-one tournament was a huge success and we are extremely gratified by the public's response. Next year it moves to Wiltwyck where the entry list should be even higher.

Vaughan Admits

tant had testified that Maragon banked $119,000 during a five-year period in which he had said his income was about $30,000.

Vaughan acknowledged he had been helpful to Maragon from time to time, but he swore he had never authorized Maragon to "represent, or speak, for me or the White House."

Under a fire of questions from Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), Vaughan denied specifically that he ever told the State Department that President Truman was "personally interested" in a trip Maragon proposed to make to Europe in 1945 for a perfume company — the same company which gave Vaughan seven home freezers, for himself and friends that year.

Vaughan took responsibility for a letter dated Aug. 3, 1945, addressed to Mrs. Ruth Shipley of the State Department passport division, and seeking permission for Maragon to make the trip.

But he said President Truman "never heard of this." He said the President "was not interested in any trip that might be taken by Maragon, or any other detail of Maragon's life."

And he said the impression that he (Vaughan) had told the State Department that the President was interested was the result of second or third hand conversations of O'Connor (D-Md.) confronted Vaughan with a copy of the Aug. 3, 1945, letter, which bears the following notation below:

"Col. Vaughan informed Mrs. Shipley that the President is personally interested in Maragon's trip to Italy."

The notation was written by one of Mrs. Shipley's assistants. Asked by O'Connor whether his financial records were available to the committee, Vaughan replied: "Certainly."

Blanket Denial
Vaughan had a 1,000-word prepared statement in which he made a blanket denial of any wrongdoing.

He said the seven home freezers which officials of the Albert J. Verley Perfume Co., Chicago, gave to him for himself and his friends were simply gifts from old friends.

One of the freezers went to Mrs. Truman for the Little White House at Independence, Mo.

Vaughan declared: "It is absolutely no connection between the gift and any assistance I have given these friends."

"At no time have I taken action as a member of the White House staff in exchange for a gift or other favor."

As for Mr. Truman's knowledge of what he has done, Vaughan said:

"Insofar as I have given assistance to any business concerns or their representatives, it has been without any participation by the President in any way, either through approval or any knowledge on his part of the names of the companies for individuals whose requests for assistance came to me and were given my attention."

When Vaughan read his statement, Chairman Hoey (D-N.C.) bluntly asked him if, in connection with aiding businessmen, he had "ever received any fee or commission or shirked with anyone else, in receiving a fee or commission."

Vaughan: "No sir, I have not at any time."

Senator O'Connor (D-Md.) broke in to ask "if you ever sought any fee or remuneration."

Vaughan: "No, sir, it never occurred to me."

Every inch of the small chamber was packed with reporters, cameramen and spectators.

Vaughan, a heavy-set man of 56, began by giving his name, address, military rank and his present official capacity as "military aide to the President."

He put on horn-rimmed glasses and read his statement in a slow, measured voice. He was slow over his right shoulder the aidelette designating his status as a White House aide.

He was accompanied by Col. C. J. Mara, assistant military aide, and Col. Carl Ristline, a retired colonel and a lawyer. Ristline, however, accompanied Vaughan as a friend.

Vaughan read in earnest tones: "There is nothing to conceal in my record as a public servant. I have discharged my duties honestly and to the best of my ability."

Maragon Not Authorized
When he got down to specific denials, he declared that at no time had he authorized John Maragon to "represent or speak for me, or the White House."

Upon his request, the general said of Maragon, "I have given him assistance in matters when it appeared to be entirely proper to do so."

Maragon is a Greek-American from Kansas City whose name has figured repeatedly in the committee's hearings. There has been testimony that he once carried a White House pass and popped in and out of the executive mansion at will.

Also that, when talking with government agencies, Maragon sometimes represented himself as speaking for Vaughan.

One of the documents the senators have turned up in their investigation is a memorandum from Vaughan's office to the State Department in August, 1945.

This asked that arrangements be made for Maragon, as a representative of the Verley Company, to go to Europe. There was a pencilled notation, made by a State Department employee, that Vaughan said President Truman was "personally interested" in Maragon's trip.

Vaughan's assertion that Mr. Truman knew nothing about any help he gave to business people presumably was intended as a denial that the President was interested in Maragon's trip.

The senators were told last week that as recently as last June some army officers were told the impression that Maragon was a liaison man between the Pentagon and the White House.

His Main Points
Vaughan, in his statement, made these main points:

1. He has known Maragon since 1941, but "I have had no business connections with Maragon."

There has been testimony that Vaughan was helpful to Maragon and other employees and officials of the Albert J. Verley Perfume Co., Chicago, who made trips to Europe on perfume business in 1945 in army transport planes.

2. Vaughan described as "an out-and-out fantasy" testimony by Herbert C. Hathorn, that Vaughan had suggested that he would "get his job" if he refused to grant a request.

This request concerned efforts of a New Jersey molasses firm to get out from under rationing restrictions imposed by the Agriculture Department.

Hathorn, now in private business, was in the Agriculture Department at the time. Hathorn testified to the committee that Vaughan got "rough" with him about the matter.

3. Vaughan declared that "at no time did I attempt to influence the decision" of government housing officials on letting the Telford race track in California get service building materials.

Tighe Woods, housing expediter, testified that in January, 1948, Vaughan interceded for the track and asked him (Woods) to "please hurry" a permit for the materials. The permit was granted the next day.

4. Vaughan said the seven deep freezers he received and distributed to Mrs. Truman and others were "a gift from two old friends of mine."

The freezers were paid for by the Verley Perfume Co.—the firm whose officials managed to get transportation to Paris three days after V-E Day in 1945.

Makes Second Try
Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Beaten in one attempt to trim the administration's arms-aid bill in committee, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) today (30-30 a. m. E.S.T.) pushed a second plan calling for a $160,000,000 cut in aid to European Atlantic Pact members. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) predicted that Vandenberg would win out with that proposal—in the full Senate, if not in the committee.

The foreign relations and armed services committees, which are now drawing up the arms bill, The Virginian told a reporter the Senate might even cut the program for Europe more deeply, slashing it by $360,000,000 as proposed by Senator George (D-Ga.).

Movement Reported
Berlin, Aug. 30 (AP)—A Berlin newspaper said today East German planes are being sent to the Balkans by Russia to seek off Yugoslavia. The British-licensed Social Democrat said 3,500 heavily armed members of the Volks-Polizei (People's Police) left the Russian zone of Germany for "anti-Tito action" in the Balkans Saturday. It said 12,000 more will be sent.

Dewey to Speak
Albany, N. Y., Aug. 30 (AP)—Governor Dewey will speak at the State Fair in Syracuse next Thursday. His appearance next Thursday is expected to make a major address on agriculture. The first full-fledged State Fair since before the war opens Monday and continues through Saturday, September 10.

Slightly Improved
York, Me., Aug. 30 (AP)—Superior Court Justice Wiley B. Rutledge, ill with a circulatory condition, was reported "holding his own" today at York Village Hospital. A slight improvement in Justice Wiley's condition was reported last night and Dr. Elmer Tower said today that "it remains the same."

Plays Contract With No Trump in Hand

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

At the Regency Club in New York the other night, I pulled up a chair in back of Leo Leventritt. His family has been active in raising funds for The Children's Cancer Fund.

Anything can happen at the bridge table, but to watch a person play a contract without a trump in his own hand is rather unusual. Leventritt's bid of two spades was a cue bid, asking his partner to bid his best suit. The reason he did not double was because he was afraid his partner might pass. Had he known that stupid and they will have only themselves to blame for the violence of the opposition which they arouse in wisest men. The quotation, "whose bread I eat his song I sing," which sounds truly poetic, has been traced to a homely baker's wagon which piled the streets of Lake View, in Chicago, 50 years ago. But the cynical wisdom of this phrase applies as well to orange juice and hot soup for school children in "backward" states by the generosity of the party in power which gets its money by praying on the entire nation. The advocates of those handouts expect that the parents of the children will vote to continue in power forever the party which thus relieves them of their primitive duty to their young. Dogs and birds feed theirs. They expect the children to grow up grateful. My respect for the intelligence of Eleanor Roosevelt is conservative, but to say that she does not count upon these political profits to her party would be to insult her grievously.

For all the clamor on the subject of education, there is no intelligent discussion of the desirability of that institution of the mind and implantation of arbitrary holdings which we generally regard as education, itself. Some of the Germans of Hitler's Reich sincerely believed that the youth who had taken the full investment in his schools were educated in high intelligence and wisdom. Many of us argued otherwise. David Dubinsky, of the garment workers' union, deeply believes in certain reactionary political theories learned in darkest Poland under the last czar. He thinks he is qualified to "educate" his adult subjects. The very fact that he seized power over 300,000 Americans, more or less, and his methods of wielding it and suppressing political and intellectual resistance, show that Dubinsky cannot expound Americanism to these people because he doesn't know it, himself.

It is frankly admitted, even boasted, that Dubinsky's "educational" work is actually a struggle for political activity in the interests of a small, balance-of-power party which he operates as an adjunct of his union at the expense of his subjects. The party is, in the most practical sense, his personal property. But the members are forced to finance it on the pretext that it educates them and Dubinsky gets the power and the glory.

The ready reference to "illiteracy" as a disgraceful commentary on American "civilization" is more persuasive than it deserves to be. There may be illiterates wiser than the miserable alumni of Harvard law who could not determine to their own satisfaction that arrogant traitors before whom were really disloyal. There are ignorant more virtuous than the intellectuals who swarmed to the Kinsey report like flies to some-thing dead and argued that hideous acts were unconventional only by the force of ignorant prejudice.

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Aranson said "we do not believe local authorities can now be relied upon to conduct a satisfactory and unbiased investigation."

He said "the obvious failure of police and law authorities to take precautionary steps to protect life and property is a shameful blot upon the name of our state."

Aranson added that "any participation by members of the Jewish war veterans in the Peckskill rioting was contrary to our national organization's policy against picketing and was wholly unauthorized."

Bookmaker Is Slain
New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—A man identified from his fingerprints as a New York bookmaker was found shot to death today in a lower East Side tenement. Police said he was Salvatore Villa, 28, who had recently been living at 1511 Alton Road, Miami Beach, Fla. This was apparently a temporary address, and his home was in New York, police said in stating he had three convictions for bookmaking here.

Pepper Expects Passage

Washington, Aug. 30 (AP)—Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), shepherding a 75-cent minimum wage bill through the Senate, today expressed hope of its passage by nightfall. Pepper, chairman of a labor subcommittee which prepared the bill, told a reporter as debate went into its second day: "I think we may pass it tonight if we stay in session long enough." A bill fixing a 75-cent minimum wage—instead of the present 40 cents an hour—has been passed by the House, but it would apply the minimum to fewer workers if the Senate passes the pending bill. A conference committee will have to reconcile differences between the two versions.

Questioned in Robbery
Akron, O., Aug. 30 (AP)—Two men were held by police today for questioning in a smoothly-functioning $25,000 robbery. Arrested at Cleveland Airport yesterday, the pair first said they were Sid Walker, 49, a New York commission broker, and Albert Warner, 49, an Omaha salesman. With them, Detective Capt. John Struzenski reported, was a briefcase containing 560 rings that had been stolen two hours earlier.

Search Continues
Caratunk, Me., Aug. 30 (AP)—Fresh searching parties, aided by a circling airplane, today entered the rugged wilderness where Boston University Professor Carl E. Purinton has been lost since Saturday.

The passes coming from Saturday's Dimmock Pond area pointed to stay in the woods until darkness. The state-owned plane arranged to dip its wings if it detects any sign of Purinton. The professor's wife and two daughters are at the family's Pleasant Pond cottage.

Will Review New Poultry Methods
New development in poultry production "from the egg to the chicken and back" will be reviewed at the annual Poultrymen's Get-Together at Cornell September 13 to 15.

Clarence Padgham, assistant county agricultural agent, has urged all Ulster county poultrymen to attend, as the meeting offers a chance to see research work under way at the college and to talk over poultry problems with other poultrymen from the state. Expert advice may be obtained from Cornell specialists and guest speakers who will be present, he said.

The meeting begins 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, September 13, and continues until noon on Thursday.

Speaking programs have been arranged for Wednesday and Thursday morning on such diverse subjects as the broiler industry, mechanical feeders, high efficiency feeds, chemical canning, egg quality, bronchitis and home dressing of poultry.

On Tuesday afternoon is scheduled a tour of poultry, turkey and veterinary research farms and a picnic will be held Wednesday evening. Copies of the complete program may be obtained at the Farm Bureau office, 74 John street, Kingston.

Groups which will hold special meetings during the three-day affair include Record of Production Breeders, Poultry Improvement Board, New York, Inc., the New York State Poultry Improvement Cooperative, Inc., New York state stock selecting agents and accredited veterinarians.

Saugerties Paper Co. Workers Choose Union

New York, Aug. 30 (Special)—Production and maintenance workers at the Saugerties Paper Mills, Inc., Saugerties, voted last Thursday for the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, A.F.L., as their collective bargaining agent with the company, the National Labor Relations Board announced here Monday.

Of 21 eligible workers voting in the N.L.R.B.-sponsored ballot,

DENTAL APPOINTMENT ON FLAGPOLE

Charley Lupica, spending his 90th day on top of a flag pole in Cleveland waiting for the Cleveland Indians to take first place in the American League, is visited by the dentist. Because of danger of infection, Dr. D. L. DeCarlo decided he would not extract Charley's aching molar, and merely cleaned it out. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Lehman May Announce Decision Thursday

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman is expected to announce Thursday whether he will run for the U. S. Senate.

Lehman's office said today he would confer with various political leaders before making his announcement.

The former governor has been urged by a number of Democratic and Liberal party figures to become a candidate.

The Senatorial election in November will fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner because of ill health. Gov. Dewey has named John Foster Dulles, a Republican, to serve until the election.

Overlook Big Haul

Chicago, Aug. 30 (AP)—Two gunmen invaded the eighth floor city hall office of the Municipal Court clerk last night, tied and taped two watchmen and smashed into a vault. The gunmen spent more than three hours in the office, three floors above the police commissioner's office where a policeman was on duty. Several employees were in the block-square city-county building in the loop during the time they broke into the vault. Police said there was less than $300 in the cash in the vault, as well as court records. Police had not determined what had been stolen. The safecrackers did not attempt to break into four other safes in the cashier's cage where, police said, there normally is between $10,000 and $20,000.

Predicts Record Prices

Lakeland, Fla., Aug. 30 (AP)—A citrus industry expert predicted record grapefruit prices this season because of the heavy blow the hurricane dealt Florida's supply. "I think we will see the highest priced grapefruit year that has ever been recorded," said Frank Seymour, secretary of the Federal Citrus Marketing Agreement Committee.

Quill Predicts Early End of Bus Strike

New York, Aug. 30 (AP)—A strike against one of Queens county's biggest bus lines entered its sixth day today with the head of the union predicting it will all be over by evening.

Despite the failure of two joint negotiating sessions, Transport Workers Union President Michael J. Quill said last night "I predict the strike will end within 24 hours. It looks that way now."

Several hundred members of Quill's C.I.O. union have been striking since last Wednesday against the Triboro Bus Co., a private concern, in a contract dispute.

Quill, making his prediction in a television interview, did not say on what basis he thought the walkout was going to end.

City Labor Relations Director Joseph E. O'Grady said he plans to be in touch with both sides today, and the union scheduled a meeting of strikers. The city has been furnishing emergency service with its own buses in the struck area of Queens.

Files Damages Suit

Philadelphia, Aug. 30 (AP)—A New York woman has filed suit for $1,500,000 damages from a pilot she claims "physically forced" her to board his plane shortly before it crashed at Dracut, Mass., July 11, 1948. The suit, filed by Gloria Gerstman in U. S. District Court yesterday, named
